

Final Web Requirements

PRIME AUDIOLOGY

- Consolidated specifications following client feedback
- Sitemap architecture & core feature lock-in
- Multimedia & performance optimization strategy
- Prepared by LaVue Strategy Team

STRATEGIC UX FOUNDATION

The website must strictly adhere to the Prime Audiology Brand Book while optimizing the experience for our primary 60+ demographic.

Brand Alignment

Strict use of Deep Navy and Bright Blue. Typography must utilize Montserrat for headings and Nunito Sans for body copy.

Senior Accessibility

High contrast design with a minimum 16px body text size to prevent visual strain and cognitive overload for older patients.

Frictionless Contact

A sticky header deployed across all pages ensuring the clinic's phone number and "Request Appointment" CTA are always visible.

SITEMAP ARCHITECTURE

Main Navigation

Based on finalized client references, the navigation is structured to route patients efficiently to critical information and booking pathways.

- Home
- About Us: Featuring George Sebastian's bio.
- Services: Drop-down covering Ear Wax Removal, Home Visits, etc.
- Hearing Aids: Dedicated drop-down menu.
- Resources: Blog & FAQ sections.
- Contact Us

Hearing Aids (Drop-Down)

- └ Styles & Types
- └ Price & Technology
- └ Pensioners & HSP Eligibility

CORE FEATURES PART 1

Price & Technology Matrix

A clean, easy-to-read table comparing technology levels (Standard, Essential, Advanced, Premium, Elite) directly to Lifestyle Aspects (Quiet environments, active social life),

It eases sales anxiety by providing transparent value upfront.

Hearing Aid Styles Grid

A visual grid showcasing the different physical types of hearing aids (BTE, RIC, ITE, ITC, CIC, IIC) using clear, high-quality images.

*Educates the patient before the consultation begins.

CORE FEATURES PART 2

HSP & Pensioner Eligibility

A dedicated page clearly explaining Government-funded hearing support options, including Pensioner Concession, DVA Gold/White Cards, and ADF membership.

Partner Brands Grid

A trust-building logo grid displaying the independent brands Prime Audiology dispenses (Phonak, Starkey, Oticon, Bernafon, Widex, Resound, Signia).

Blog / News Layout

A clean, easy-to-read layout for educational articles (e.g., "What is Ear Wax Removal?") designed to boost local SEO and patient trust.

FRictionless BOOKING JOURNEY

Dual Booking Pathways

The appointment process must cater to distinct audiences: Seniors (who prefer to call) and Adult Children (who prefer to book online).

- Call the Clinic: Large, clickable phone number (tel: link) optimized for mobile users.
- Book Online: Dedicated space for the embedded CounselEAR booking widget.
- Fallback System: A clean contact form routing directly to admin@primeaudiology.com.au until the widget is live.

OPTIMIZED MULTIMEDIA IMPLEMENTATION

Speed
PERFORMANCE FIRST

Strategic Asset Handling

To ensure lightning-fast page loading and flawless mobile performance, complex multimedia requests will be handled strategically:

- 360-Degree Devices: We will utilize official iFrame/embed codes from manufacturers (like Phonak) or high-quality GIFs, avoiding heavy custom 3D models that bloat site speed.
- Educational Video: Embedding high-quality, professional videos from official medical channels (YouTube) rather than relying on costly custom animation.
- Featured Tech: Dedicated sections highlighting specific models (Infinio Ultra, Starkey) using high-res optimized images.

AHPRA COMPLIANT TRUST BUILDING

Navigating Medical Law

As an Australian medical website, Prime Audiology must strictly comply with AHPRA (Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency) advertising guidelines.

- No Testimonials: We cannot use patient testimonials regarding clinical care or outcomes anywhere on the site.
- No Guarantees: Language must remain objective. We avoid "guarantees" or claims of a "cure" for hearing loss.
- Educational Authority: We build trust through clinical transparency, George's credentials, and objective educational content rather than relying on marketing hype.
